THE COURTS.

The Suit Against the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad.

INTERESTING COPYRIGHT DECISION.

A Member of the Bar in a Perplexing Predicament.

HIS ATROCIOUSLY STINGY BRETHREN.

The suit of Lucas H. Weetjen and Johann Weetjen against the trustees of the $15,000,000 bond loan of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad was tried and submitted to Judge Dononue, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday. Some of the general facts in onnection with the claim of the plaintiffs have already ared in the HERALD on the occasion of their being through their agents in this city, Messra. J. S. Kennedy & Co., represent about $12,000,000 out of the $15,000,000 of the bonds of the road. Out of the operations for the negotiation of these bonds and the building of the road, which is known as the First Division of the Northern Pacific Railroad, Jay Cooke & Co. and William G. Moorhead, emerged debtors of the company in relation to these bonds in the sum of $300,000. Jay Cooke & Co. bave declared a dividend of five per cent cash, and have about fourteen per cent of other assets. The present suit is a friendly one between the bond-nedders and the trustees of the mortgage to obtain the sanction of the Court to the making of a compromise by the trustees with the extate of Jay Cooke & Co. and Moorhead. This compromise is proposed at $75,000 for the whole claim, or $20,000 on account of Moorhead. The Judge reserved his decision.

That indefatigable litigant in the Supreme Court, of which he designates himself a noble and honored member, was somewhat unexpectedly blocked in his pursuit of justice in the Superior Court before Chief Justice Curtis yesterday. The suit was brought by the Count himself as plaintiff against Neil McCullum & a., a Spruce street firm, for alleged legal services, for which he wants $600. The Count made a flowery opening and then appealed to the jury to protect the opening and then appealed to the jury to protect the Bar in their rights. He then went on the witness stand, and after a very long speech as to his services, and after he was cross-examined by Mr. Peter Michell, the court officers demanded of him, as is usual, the jury lee of $12. The Count informed the clerk that he was short just then, and the clerk said he would call the attention of the Court to the matter if the "stamps" were not forthcoming at once. The Count said he would do that himself, and he then rose, and, addressing the Court, said, that for the last five court days he had come into Court with the necessary jury fee in his pocket, but, unfortunately, this morning, he was without the necessary number of greenbacks, and appealed to the Court to allow him to try the case without being compelled to pay up. Mr. Mitchell remarked that, in this country, the nobility were not entitled to any greater rights than the common people. The Judge seemed to take that view of the matter, and informed the Count that unless he paid the mousy at once the Court would direct that a juror be withdrawn. The Count thereupon turned to the members of the Bar, who aimost filled the spacious room, and asked if there was no member of the profession who would be chivalrous enough to advance $12.50. The counsel smitled. A juror was then withdrawn, the case went over, and the Count left the precincts of justice, seemingly at a loss to reconcile the apparent smiles of sympathy of his 'brethren of the Bar' with their want of pecuniary appreciation of and response to his childlike and bland appeal. Even the jurors were sufficiently heartless and anappreciative of great public services not to volunteer their services without the statutory allowance. Bar in their rights. He then went on the witness

COPYRIGHT LAW.

Judge Blatchford, in the United States Circuit Court, yesterday, rendered an important decision under the new copyright laws. The suit was brought for an injunction restraining an alleged infringement of a laber.

new copyright laws. The suit was brought for an injunction restraining an alleged infringement of a label. Judge Blatchlord says:—

The statutory provisions that confer the right and regulate the remedies of persons who register in the Patent Office under the act of June 18, 1874 (18 U.S. Statutes at Large, 78), prints or labels designed to be used for any other articles of manufacture than pictorial illustrations and works connected with the fine acts, are those which are contained in sections 4,943 to 4,971 of the Revised Statutes in regard to copyrights. The exclusive right of printing and publishing given by section 4,052 is given to the author or proprietor only on complying with the provisions of sections 4,943 to 4,971. One of those provisions (4,056) is that no person shall be entitled to a copyright unless be shall "before publication" deliver pt the proper office (in this case the Patent Office) a printed copy of the title of the article in respect of which the copyright is to be claimed. In the present case the first label and its title were registered September 24, 1875. I understand the bill to state that this label was used by the plaintiffs' assignors in the sale of their mixture and of the nottles containing it, to which such label was affixed before that date and as early as the mixture itself was sold—to wit, June or July, 1875. The sale of the bottles of the mixture with the label on it was a publication of the label. At all events the bill does not allege that the title and label were deposited before the publication of the label. Such averment is necessary. As to the other three labels they and their titles were registered March 20, 1877, and I understand the bill to state that those labels were used by the plantiffs before that date in the sale of the mixture.

The motion for an injunction is denied. Mr. A. Broadnax appeared for the complainants and Messrs. Hall and Blandy for the detendants.

BROKERS' COMMISSIONS.

In the case of Saiter & Lovy against Solomon W. before Judge Sheridan, the jury yesterday morning returned a verdict for the full amount claimed by plaintiffs. The case is an important one, as it determines the right of real estate brokers to recover commission on sale of real estate, notwithstanding no written contract has been entered into between the proposed vender and purchaser. The facts in this case are as follows:—The plaintiffs, who are real estate brokers in vender and purchaser. The facts in this case are as relieve.—The plaintiffs, who are real estate brokers in this city, were employed in the year 1875 to effect a saie of three lots in West Forty-eighth street, this city, belonging to the defendant. They claim that in pursuance of such employment, they produced a purchaser for the lots at the price of $31,000, and that such purchaser was ready, able and willing, and offered to purchase the lots for the price asked for the same. The defendant, they claim affirst acquiesced in the saie, but subsequently refused to enter into a written contract with the proposed purchaser for the sale of the property, and maintained by his counsel, ex-Judge Van Cott and George W. McAdam, that, as no contract was entered into in writing no recovery could be had, the plaintiffs, on the other hand, through their conniet, Messrs. Jacobs and Sink, maintained that their commissions were carned as soon as the purchaser, as hereinbefore stated, was found, and that their right to commissions did not depend upon the entering into a written contract between the parties. The jury, after an absence of several hours, entered a verdict, as before stated, for the plaintiffs.

The arguments of counsel in the suit of the Atlantic and Pacitic Telegraph Company against the Western Union Telegraph Company and others to determine the title to the quadruplex system of telegraphy were continued before Judge Sanford in the Superior Court yesternay and will be resumed to-day. Mr. Edward N. Dickerson, of counsel for the Western Union Telegraph Company, followed Mr. Wheeler, who had argued on behalf of the Atlantic and Pacific Company. Mr. Dickerson's argument was much on the same line as that previously pursued by Mr. Lowry on the same site, he deviating therefrom only to pay his respects to the humane motives of Mr. By Gould in paying $30,000 to Mr. Eddison for his alleged right in the patent. He contended that if Mr. Eddison had continued to adhere to his contract with the Western Union Company his income from his intellectual labors would have been five times as much as what he received from Mr. Gould, and attributed to the latter's act the humane motive of saving Mr. Eddison from the disasters which so frequently follow on the sudden acquisition of a large, and, to the party interested unprecedented moome. Several counsel are yet to be heard on both sides, including ex-Judge Porter, of this city; Mr. Latrobe, of Baitmore, and the "bowld" statesham and advocate from Essex, Ben Butier. graph Company, followed Mr. Wheeler, who and

LIABILITY OF COMMON CARRIERS. An action entitled Flaherty vs. the Steamboat Cott was tried yesterday before Judge Joseph F. Daly and a jury which presented some interesting questions as to the liability of steamboat companies for the loss of baggage of a possenger. It appeared that the plaintill, a young lady, was going on a summer trip to Southampon, Long Island, with a party of friends, and one of on, Long Island, with a party of friends, and one of the party agreed to purchase the tickets. He went on point of the boat and purchased the tickets for the party, but, by a chapter of accidents, the paintiff and other members of the party tailed to reach the boat in seasor, but she arrived in time to see the stemboost but in the stream. The plaintiff had sent her baggange by an expressman, who testified that he put it on loard of the boat a few minutes before its departure. The next morning the fair plaintiff started in for pursue of her baggage by the Long Island Railroad Not finding it, she brought this sent against the steamboat company. The company claimed that they were not habit even if the baggage was delivered on board of the boat, because the pisibilit was not a passenger, and that the hability of common carriers only arises where the relation of the passenger exists. Judge Daly, in charging the jury, held that it was not necessary to make the carrier liable that the owner should accompany his baggage, provided the contract of passage was made out, which has been done in this case by the purchase of the ticket. The jury rendered a vertict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed. Measurs. Boe and Mackin appeared for plaintiff and Measurs. Butler, Stillman and Hubbard for detendant.

ON THE FORCE OR OFF? The case of Hugh Massey, the policeman whose ap-pointment is disputed by the Commissioners, and which has already been referred to in the Herald, was before Judge Donehue, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, on an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the Commissioners to administer to him the oath of office and assign him to duty. It was contended by his counsel, Mr. L. J. Grant, that, his client being capable of meeting all other conditions of the service, his appointment by the Commissioners completed the act of appointment, and they could not change it as they had done without preferring charges against his client and giving him a trial. It was claimed by Mr. McClellan on the part of the Commissioners that until the appointment was complete by Massey taking the oath of office they had a right to reached their previous resolution. Judge Donohue said:—"As the petitioner proceeded on the theory that he had been appointed there was no necessity for a mandamus to compol such appointment, and the application, therefore, fell to the ground." Notwithstanding this expression of opinion, the Judge reserved his formal decision.

The deceased was killed by falling into an unprotected excavation in the sidewalk at the corner of Fitty-ninth street and Fitth avenue, which it was the duty of the city officials to keep in a safe condition.

In the contested will case of Samuel Downs testimony on the part of the proponents was taken yesterday before the Surrogate. The point sought to be established was that the deceased was not incapacitated from making a will through a course of dissipation previous to his death, which was the principal ground taken by the contestants to the will. Case still on.

In the suit of the V ctory Weeb Manufacturing Company against the Christian Union Publishing Company, the facts of which have aiready appeared in the least, before Judge Donohue, yesterday, to have the complaint made more definite and certain. The suit is to recover about $6,000, the value of a printing press, which plaintiff has not yet delivered up, and the payment of $500 as the cost of insurance while they keep it. Decision was reserved.

Writs of habeas corpus were insued by Judge Donohue, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, in favor of Margaret Frice and Lesser Katcheisky. Margaret alleges that she is detained in default of $300 bail to keep or, early and that she is prepared to furnish it. Lesser says he is imprisoned by the Captain of the Tenth precince on a charge of laise pretences, and that he is about to be removed from the State without due process of law. Both writs were made returnable today.

John T. Riley, a former member of the Seventy first regiment, was imprisoned in Ludlow

John T. Riley, a former member of the Seventy-first regiment, was imprisoned in Ludiow Street Jailfor non-payment of military fines. He applied through his attorney, Mr. Michael Jacobs, to be released, and for that purpose was taken before Judge Donohue, in Supreme Court, Chambers, on a writ of habeas corpus. It was alleged on his behalt that he had been expelled from the regiment and that its officers had no further control over him. In opposition to this it was claimed that his expulsion was only by the company, and, until acted on by the colonel, his expulsion was incomplete. To this it was replied that the company, having imposed upon him the disgrace of expuision, and he having secepted it, they could not continue to enforce their fines against him. The Judge ordered his discharge.

A DOCTOR'S WIFE'S TROUBLES.

An examination was held in the Duggan abandonment case at the Fifty-seventh Street Court yesterday. It will be remembered that the complainant is the daughter of Patrick Corr gan, Jr., a well known resident of Yorkville, while the defendant is a prosperous young doctor who graduated some years ago at a Maryland college, and is the son of the late Doctor Bryan

Duggan; we were married in April, 1871; we have no children; my husband left me on the 18th of September, 1873, and has not lived with me since; we were then living going away and would not return for a few days, and propably never; I saw him the following Monday, and he told me be would never live another day with me, but would give me what be could afford; he has not contributed to my support since then; he has given me about $12 since January last; since he left me I have been living with my father, and am still; my father has been my only support; have no means of my own, no trade nor profession, and would have nothing without my father's assistance; I am in danger of becoming a burden on the public; my husband is a doctor, with a good practice; when he lived with me his income was between $2,000 and $3,000 a year; I believe it has increased since; I lived with my husband after marriage about fifteen months in our own home; it was a three story and basement brown atone front house; it was given to me by my father as a present; he paid $14,500 for it; there was soon a mortgage of $5,000 on it, and my husband advised me to transfer it to my father; six months before my husband left the interest came due; he had not the money, so my mother had to supply it; I asked him how he expected to get along that way; he said the best way was to give the house to father; I received no money for the house, but gave it up io save it from being ruined; do not know why my nusband left me; I never told him to leave; I lrequently saw him afterward at his sister's house; have gone out riding with him; we were out the evening of the carnival; we were on friendly terms to the Ist he of March last; he relused to give me money when I knew he had it; I have often asked him for money, but he has always refused to give me money when I knew he had it; I have often asked him how he is lindelintes; I live by working in my father's house; I have had but two dresses in mix y gers; I am now but would give me what he could afford; he has no have not lived with him since March 18 on account of his infidelities; I live by working in my father's house; I have had but two dresses in six years; I am now willing to live with my husband.

Mrs. Coffigan next testified to about the same as the above. She asked Duggan why he was going and what was the triable; he answered. "There is no trouble, and my wife is the best woman that ever lived."

Mr. Corrigan said he would take care of his daughter if he were able, but when the husband could support her there was no reason why he should be compolled to do so. The examination was here postponed.

VERY MUCH ARRESTED.

fiolding tight to a warrant for the arrest of Thomas R. Boone, a Rochester merchant tailor, charged with false pretences, a policeman yesterday morning anxlously awaited the arrival of the early train at the Grand Central Depot. In due time it arrived, and the unsuspecting Mr. Boone placinly alighted only to be made a prisoner. At the Tombs Police Court yestermade a prisoner. At the Tombs Police Court yesterday als counsel (Mr. Howe) strenuously insisted that Boone's alleged effence was a purely legitimate business transaction, and that the complainaties, Messrs, E. H. Van Ingen & Co., wool merchants, caused his errest on the criminal charge only to facilitate his arrest on civil process. The counsel further claimed that the representations upon which he purchased the goods from the complainants were strictly trutiful.

The prisoner was held in $2,500 ball, which was promptly turnished. As he left the court room a deputy sheriff stepped up and took him again in custody on the civil suit, as predicted by the counsel.

CARELESS USE OF FIREARMS.

the employ of Mrs. Shurragar, of No. 131 West Thirty-fith street, was accidentally shot in the right breast yesterday atternoon by a lad named Frank W. Giover, who resides in the same house. Young Glover was in the front basement talking to Lizzie about two o'clock the front basement talking to Lizzie about two o'clock yeaterday, and was exhibiting to her a small seven-chambered revolver, which he had just purchased. He playfully pointed the pistol in the direction of where she was standing, and unfortunately, thinking that the chamber opposite which was the barrel was not leaded, he builted the trigger. The girl in attempting to jump aside placed herself directly in front of the barrel and received the builts in her breast, elover immediately went for a doctor, and also notified the Thirtieth street police station. Lizzie McCann was taken to the New York Hospital, where she now lies. REAL ESTATE.

CUSTOM HOUSE NOTES.

The reports of the Collector's and Surveyors' Comnissions, who are to guide the Collector in reducing the force the required twenty per cent, had not been finished yesterday. In fact it is doubtful now whether anything in the removal line will be done until the anything in the removal line will be done until the last day of this month, which is the limit set by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The Ninth division has been consondated with the Seventh and the Teuth has been merged in the Third. On the 14th inst. Inspector Chapman, at Castle Garden, seized a lot of stuff from F. Rothstein, a steerage passenger arriving on the steamer Herder, which he made the reporters believe amounted to several thousand dollars. The cheap stuff was sent to the public stores to be valued, and yesterday Appraiser Dutcher transmitted his appraisement to the Collector, which foots up a total of $135.04.

THE NEW STEAMSHIP DEVONIA.

The steamship Devonia, recently built for the Anchor ine, was thrown open for the inspection of the public yesterday afternoon. The main saloon on the second deck is a very handsome apartment, extending from wall to wall, and has four tables placed fore and aft, The saloon is lighted by a large opening through the first deck and above a stained glass skylight. The opening on the first deck is railed around, and has seats with the rail for a back, and in the opening all kinds of beautiful flowers are suspended. Yesterday a good string band was stationed on the first deck, close to this opening, and played during the afternoom. The staterooms range off the corridors, one on each side of the vessel, running fore and aft, and are all comfortably arranged. All of the seloon on the first deck is the ladies' saloon, elegantly furnished in bique. The vessel is furnished with all the newest appliances, such as a new steam winch for lifting ashes and throwing them west ward, steam steering apparatus, and wire rope instead of hawaers. The cooking stoves and galley are on deck, and a comfortable smoking room has also been fifted up for the accommodation of the passengers. The reception lasted until five P. M., and several hundred people paid the Devonia a visit during that time. opening on the first deck is railed around, and has seats

THE NEW CAB COMPANY.

In an interview had with Mr. Kavanagh yesterday morning that gentleman seemed jubilant over the reduction of rates proposed by the cabmen of New York. "The people of this city have the new enterprise to thank for the strange proposition of the cabmen," said thank for the atrange proposition of the cabmen," said Mr. Kavanagh. "Do you think, for a moment, that unless the Manhattan Cab Company was an imminent reality those men would make any such proposition? Or, to continue the interrogatory style, flow long do you suppose they would abide by a reduction if the new company were not on hand to continue the fight? It is no hardship to these men to make the reduction proposed, for the increase in business which it with bring will about equalize the profits. They may have to work a little harder perhaps under the new system, but all their hours of labor will be amply compensated, and they will make more money than most working men do during the just." Mr. Kavanagh regards the new move by the cab-men as one of the strongest indications of the favor with which public opinion has received the proposi-tions of the Manhattan Cab Company.

CLUBBED AND RUN OVER.

Patrick Gilman, of No. 521 First avenue, was run over by car No. 28 of the Twenty-third and Cross Town line on Tuesday evening, and was found lying across the track by an officer. The man was conveyed to Bellevue Hospital, and his injuries are likely to prove fatal. He was able to state, however, some-thing of the strange affair. He was clubbed by a policeman on the dock foot of Thirteenth street, and, while staggering about, feil on the track, hear First avenue. The car driver, whose bame is Kane, told the man to get out of the way or he would drive over him, sad, finding his threat without avail, at once executed it. The case was in the Fifty-seventh Street Court yesterday. The Justice referred it to the Coroner.

STRAWBERRIES FOR THE SICK. The request for donations of strawberries and flowers for the 1,000 sufferers in the Charity Hospital yesterday was not responded to with the usual generosity of our citizens. Mr. Marshall O. Roberts and Mrs. Owen each sent a crate of berries. Two other crates were sent, making about 100 quarts in all. Some unknown sent, making about 100 quarts in all. Some unknown donorment a champagne basket of flowers by express, and several smaller quantities were sent in. Donations of fruit and flowers for the 500 sufferers in the Homosopathic Hospital on Ward's Island ere solicited, and all contributions will be received and forwarded by Mr. Wilham R. Corwin, of No. 1,143 Broadway, before half-past nine o'clock on Saturday morning. With strawberries and flowers as plentiful as they are this year the laddes interested in this most worthy mission should be met with generous aid.

MR. GOULDING'S DIRECTORY.

At the meeting of the Board of Education vesterday fternoon the committee appointed to consider the charges against Commissioner Goulding, who, it will be remembered, was charged with certain "crooked" methods in compiling and publishing a Directory, moved to be discourged from further consideration of the achiect. After a sharp, short light the request of the committee was granted, and the conduct of the Commissioner remains without approval or reprimand.
